

Improve My Credit Score

There's nothing mysterious or underhand about the way we repair your credit history. The secret lies in the phrase 'credit history' itself – we simply help you rebuild your payment 'reputation' (and therefore your creditworthiness) with the credit reference agencies.

All we do is sell you an eBook (on the the subject of credit history improvement), and you pay us by subscription. This subscription is then registered with Experian (the world's largest and most-used credit reference agency) who records your on-time payments. The result is positive credit report which improves your credit score.

When you commit to buying our e-book, we register the agreement with the Credit Reference Agency, Experian. Every time you make a regular quarterly payment, your credit file is improved. It takes a little time for a damaged (or new) credit history to build, but this subscription-based purchase will help to prove to Experian and other institutions that you are reliable and creditworthy.
